the drugs are often used because they improve focus and alertness for longer periods of time