children are usually fidgeting and restless at this age with ADHD, but unless you spend a fair amount of time with them, they don't seem that hyperactive

it's still unclear where that game will be played after Egypt initially said it would be in Cairo and in front of fans, which would be the first international held in the capital in two years an inquiry following the murder led the Metropolitan Police to be accused of institutional racism and found failings in how the force had investigated the crime